Maximizing the economic success of your real estate project is the foundation of Portman’s legacy of service to our clients and commitment to the communities in which we work — because it is through this success that we build relationships, revitalize cities and earn clients for life. Portman’s business model of delivering world-class real estate and hotel projects through its development capabilities, coupled with its success in producing strong financial returns on existing operations through its asset management activities, makes it a valuable real estate operating partner and asset manager for owners, investors and lenders.

Three key traits distinguish Portman Holdings’ asset management capabilities from the competition:

- Portman Holdings is a full service, vertically integrated real estate service provider. Our asset management clients benefit from the contributions and direct involvement of experienced in-house real estate professionals in the disciplines of operations, risk management, legal, finance, tax and project management.
- Portman Holdings is an experienced real estate owner. Unlike other asset managers, we have an owner’s mentality and know what it takes to make a project succeed. We apply this perspective to the properties in our asset management portfolio by acting like an owner, executing the business plan as an owner, and having the performance expectations of an owner.
- Portman Holdings provides hands-on, senior level asset management expertise rooted in decades of actual operations experience. Our asset management team is comprised of real estate, hospitality, tradeshow and investment professionals with an average of more than 20 years experience in the development, operation and asset management of large, upscale real estate projects and hotels. In particular, our hotel asset management executives bring proven operations experience at the general manager, regional and divisional operations levels to bear on our assignments.
